We require everybody to be a lifelong learner in the digital age. The current education system unfortunately does not achieve this goal. I am devoting my life to help turn everyone into a lifelong learner.

Would like to thank Mr. Vijay Shekhar Sharma, Founder, Paytm for giving me an opportunity to achieve this goal through 'Paytm - Build for India' initiative

SKJ Technologies (A unit of Swatantar Associates Pvt Ltd)

Director

April 2002 - September 2009 (7 years 6 months)

SKJ Technologies (A unit of Swatantar Associates Pvt Ltd) was one of the first companies in India to venture into mobile game and application development way back in 2002.

The company was a direct supplier of mobile games to Reliance Communications Ltd and direct supplier of mobile games and other mobile VAS content to Tata Teleservices Ltd and Tata Teleservices (Maharashtra) Ltd.

The company also supplied games to many large names in the mobile industry. The company was also active in the area of J2ME / Java ME learning.

Base 77

Consultant

April 2006 - August 2006 (5 months)

Base77 is an offshore software, multimedia, and web development company with strong expertise in robust, user-friendly, cost-effective, reliable, and firm IT solutions and services; ranging from simple to complex, across a broad spectrum of technologies and diverse domains.

I helped Base77 to set up its mobile games and applications unit. I taught their team, skills for mobile game development and Java ME / J2ME. I also helped them to market their games and applications in the initial phase.
